

The image contains five sequential line drawings of a hand, each illustrating a different type of tactile sensation:

- Light touch: The index finger is lightly touching the back of the hand.
- Pressure touch: The index finger is pressing down on the back of the hand.
- Vibration touch: The index finger is rubbing the back of the hand in a circular motion.
- Temperature touch: The index finger is holding a small, glowing object (representing heat) against the back of the hand.
- Pain touch: The index finger is holding a small, glowing object (representing pain) against the back of the hand.
